SNOWFLAKE FAIRIES

OVERVIEW

SKILL: papercutting

MATERIALS:

cardstock, scissors,
hobby knife, hole
punch, thread

TIME: 10 minutes

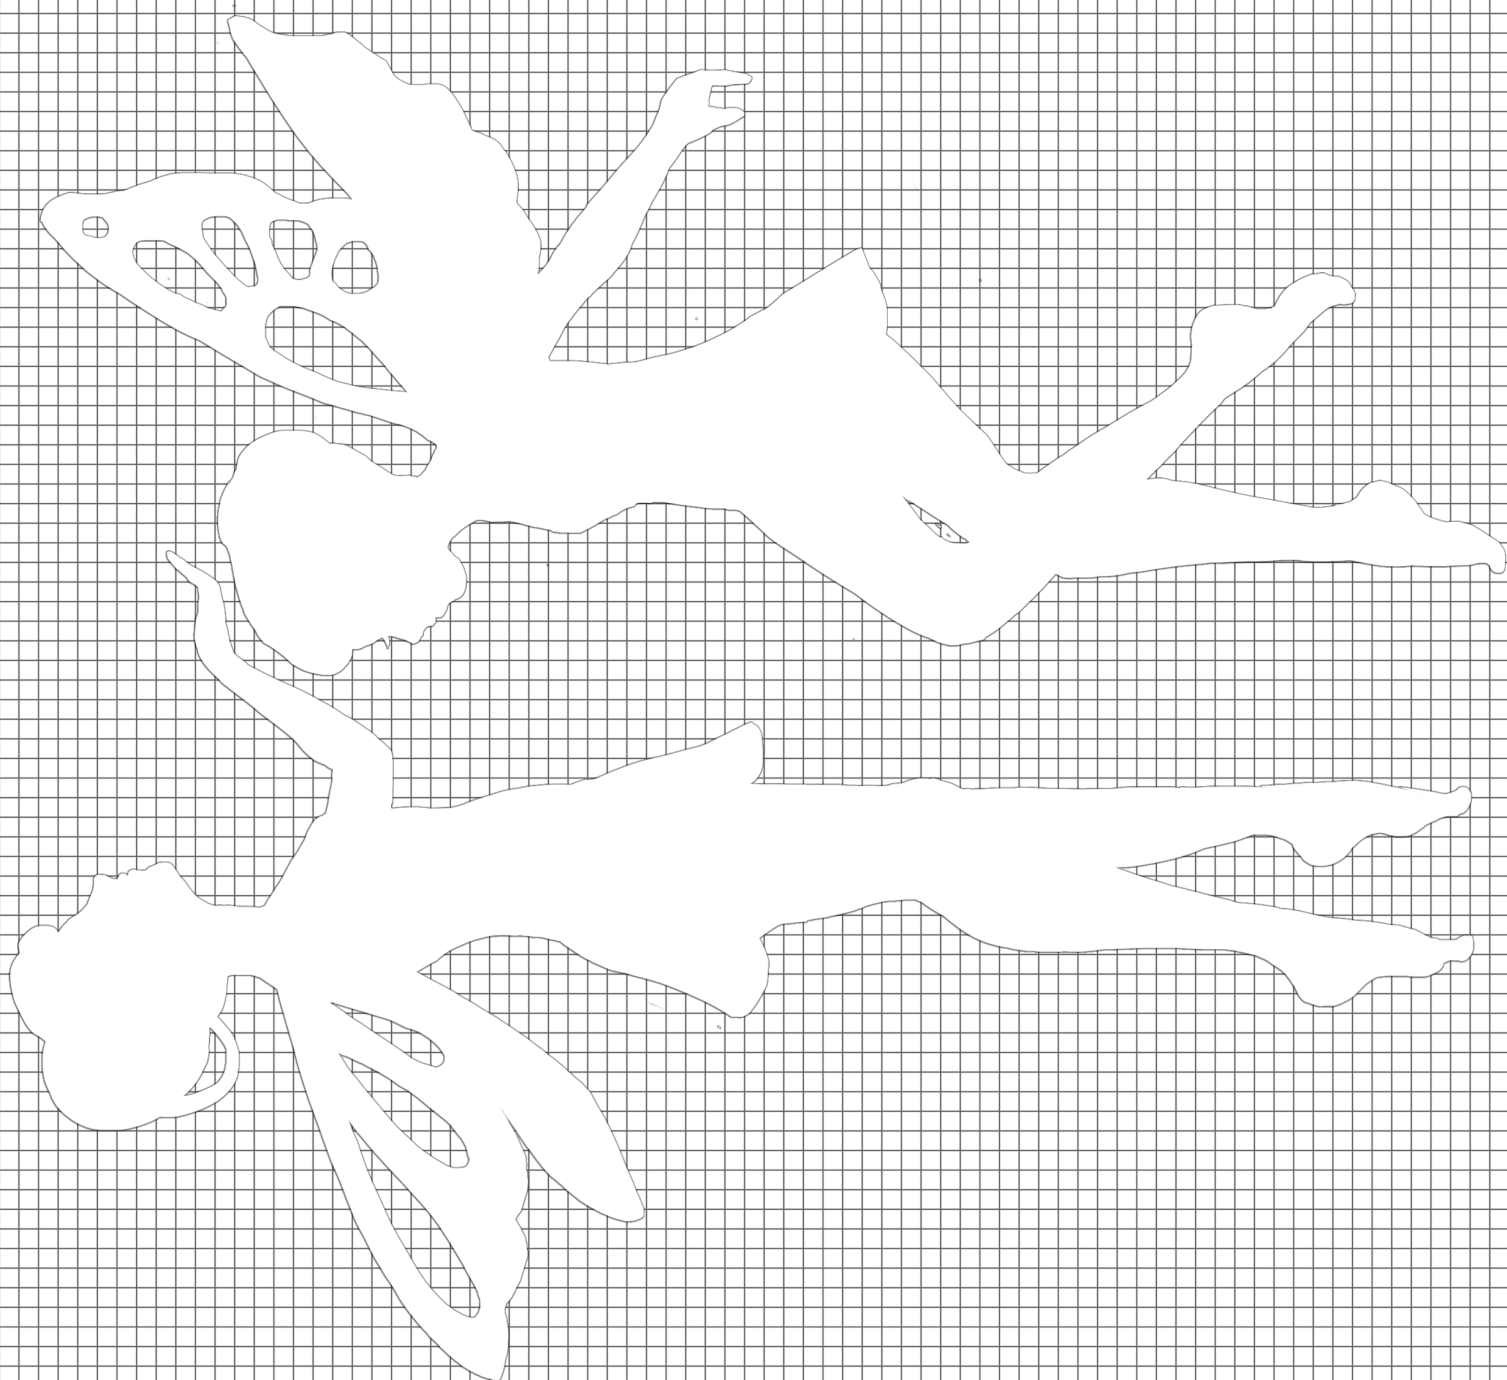

Do you remember cutting paper snowflakes as a child? This is a spin on an old craft—instead of leaving it as a snowflake, put a fairy inside and make a snowflake fairy! The snowflake skirt adds some dimension to the silhouette, and if you don't look too closely, it seems as if little winter fairies were indeed fluttering around your tree.

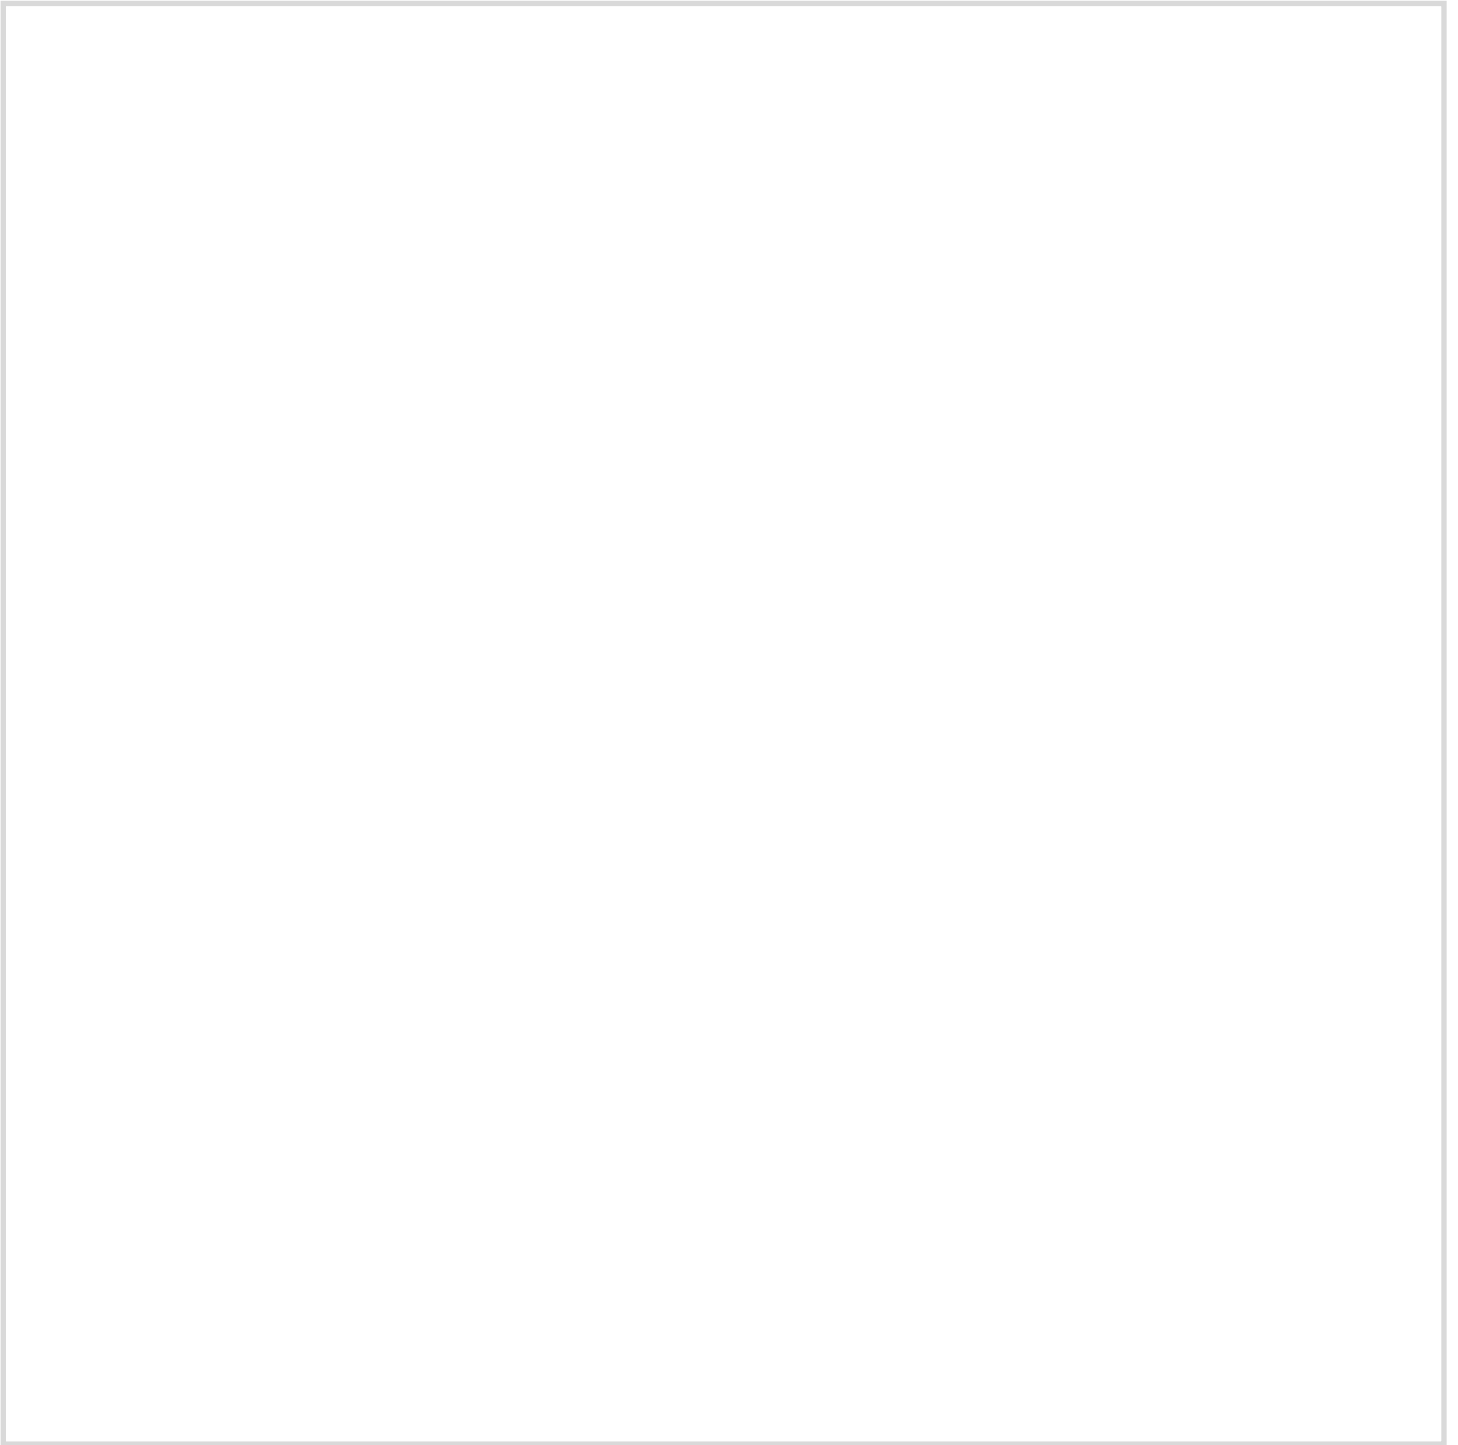

1. Cut the fairy silhouettes out of card stock.
2. Cut the template for making a snowflake out of thin plain paper (tissue paper works best!). Read the detailed tutorial on the next page.
3. Put the snowflake on the fairy like a skirt.
4. Tie a string and hang the fairy on a tree.

HOW TO MAKE A SNOWFLAKE SKIRT

1. Fold the square paper template corner to corner three times.
2. Cut the edge at the bottom of the triangle so that the template forms the circle when unfolded. This line will be the bottom of the future skirt –make it lacy or frilly.
3. Cut the hole at the tip for the fairy's waist.
4. Cut designs through the triangle. It makes a nice effect if they run off the edges.
5. Unfold the skirt.
